

STEWART RHODES: ...How's he want to go down in history? He'll go down in history as the greatest President since George Washington if he does the right thing. If not, we're gonna' have a slave uprising.

WITNESS: The evidence is so clear.

STEWART RHODES: Yeah, it is.

WITNESS: You know, now, I don't condone what happened at the Capitol, okay? I think you and I both know who was out there.

STEWART RHODES: You know what came out of it though. Yeah. So it turned out to be a good thing in the end. But go ahead finish your thought: you don't condone it, but what?

WITNESS: I don't condone the actions of that [UNK] because I think at that moment in time, it played right into their hands.

STEWART RHODES: Maybe. But it also showed the people that we got a spirit of resistance. So I'm letting you know, my only regret, is they should have brought rifles. I tell you what: if President Trump's gonna' do the right thing, then I agree it was the wrong thing

STEWART RHODES: If he's not going to do the right thing, and he's just gonna' let himself be removed illegally, then we should have brought rifles. We could have fixed it right then and there. I'd hang fuckin' Pelosi from the lamppost.

[Background noise/shuffling]

WITNESS: No.
